

At the time of writing, Mountbatten staff and trainees are still working from home, as are many of you worldwide. We hope you are keeping safe and well.

We are working towards our September 2020 intake and look forward to the times when there will be a certain amount of normalcy and friends and colleagues can re-aquaint themselves in person. As always, if you are able to host a trainee in September or beyond, or refer a fantastic young professional to the Program, please do get in touch with us.
