

As the Program pushes ahead with its Fall intake recruitment, we are looking to expand our roster of sponsor companies in New York. Please look at the advert below, and get in touch if you think this is something you can assist with.

8th March marked International Women's Day, and so we particularly highlight our female alumni and their achievements in this issue.

Are you working for a company in NY, or with a company that has an office in NY?

We would be grateful if you would introduce the MOUNTBATTEN Program to them.

We are looking for more host organizations so we can grow the Program back, and give as many candidates as possible the opportunity you had.

Please reach out to Jo Harvey to discuss or introduce us to your company - jharvey@mountbatten.org

Special Feature - Participant Profile Summi Sivakumaran New York Program, May 2022

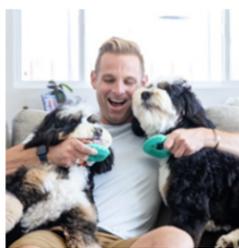

Would you like to take a walk down memory lane of your time in NY?

Introducing to you one of our current NY Program participants: Summi Sivakumaran

We highly recommend following Summi's instagram and checking out his vlog. Summi is very talented in producing highlight reels showcasing all his experiences in NY and his travels around the US whilst on the Program.

Follow him to take that trip down memory lane, and also to see how MB's still are the best at budget travel! Let's use the power of the alumni to boost his profile.

Entrepreneurial Alumni Michael Holtz London Program, August 2007

Michael has successfully helped several small business and nonprofits grow in both Europe and the US, and now has his own brand that he created and launched successfully from the ground up. Among the lessons learned along the way, Michael advises, "be prepared to deviate from the original plan, be pragmatic, be quick & nimble in your decision-making (as often you have to turn on a dime), and adapt to your environment and surroundings".

Entrepreneurial Alumni Rudian Dong London Program, March 2018

Rudian set up her company Nianzhi, a multi-service think lab offering a wide range of customised solutions for entities and organisations worldwide, over a year ago.

After working in the corporate world for both large and small companies, Rudian realised that her most satisfying work had come out of freelance projects. This gave her the idea to establish her own consultancy, which brings together expertise from different cultures, countries, types of companies and roles within the business world. Rudian is currently based in China.
